Army Demonstrates New Tank Killer

PORT CLINTON, Ohio P-The Army has a new tank killer, a 106mm recoilless "rifle" that weighs less than 500 pounds and is carried on a jeep.

The ordnance corps gave its first public demonstration of the weapon, called the Bat, at a gathering of 600 northern Ohio industrialists yesterday at the Erie Ordnance Depot at nearby Lacarne.

The Bat looks like a small cannon and can be fired either from the jeep or from the ground. It takes less than a minute to get it off the jeep and about the same length of time to put it back on.

Army officers said the rifle has twice the penetrating power and more than double the effective range of individual weapons now M. Ramey, commander of the available to infantrymen.

Above The Call Of Duty

In the free society of America, it is entirely up to each individual how much he contributes over and above the call of taxes and jury duty. This adds immeasurably to the honor bestowed upon William M. Morgan of Alliance for his endeavors to reduce the menace of tubercul-

Mr. Morgan, a professor of organic chemistry at Mount Union College, has been awarded the 14th annual Dearhold Medal for the most outstanding contribution by a layman in tuberculosis control.

In these days when so many do so little, it is heartening to realize that Mr. Morgan also serves as president of Alliance City Council, honorary president of the Stark County Tuberculosis and Health Assn., member of the board of directors of the Ohio Tuberculosis Assn. and Representative director from Ohio for the National Tuberculosis Assn.

He has chosen to do as much as lay within his obviously great ability.

Improving On Nature

The American public is about to be subjected to another dodge to make things seem more authentic than they really are.

So far we have been subjected to padding in the shoulders of men' suits to make them appear more heroic, padding in women's garments to make them appear more feminine, chemicals in food to make them taste more like food and pigments to make people look more like people.

Now we are to be subjected to a new perfume to make citrus fruits smell more like citrus fruits. Various odors reproducing those of orange, grapefruit, tangerine, lemon and lime have been developed by Everette M. Burdick of Coral Gables.

We don't profess to know where all this is likely to end. But eventually it may make everything appear in its true colors by artificial means - and that should be about as close to the end as it is possible to get.

4-Year Terms For State Officials

Ohio voters have a chance to make an overdue reform in terms for state administrative officials on Nov. 2. The present limit on their terms is two years.

A Yes vote on a proposed constitutional amendment to give four-year terms to the governor, lieutenant governor, secretary of state, state treasurer, attorney general and auditor, beginning at the close of this decade and the beginning of the next one will help to bring Ohio's constitution up to date.

The four-year-term proposal is logical. Except for the governor and lieutenant governor, the state offices affected are the counterparts of federal offices included in the presidential cabinet. They are the main administrative jobs in Ohio's government.

Since the men who hold them cannot be appointed, as they are in the federal government, they should be elected to terms long enough to let them perform their work instead of having to run almost continuously for re-

Ohioans make a practice of re-electing satisfactory administrative officials anyway, so the effect of passing the proposed amendment would be to confirm in law the custom of keeping good administrators on the job.

This is particularly true of the governorship, the state's No. 1 position. The amendment provides, incidentally, that no governor shall serve more than two consecutive terms - a total of eight years.

Another similar proposal on the November ballot should not be confused with the one to lengthen the terms of administrative officials.

The other proposal is for doing the same thing to the terms of representatives and senators in the General Assembly. This proposal has no weight of logic behind it.

Members of the General Assembly shoud remain frequently responsive to their constituents. They should be subject to the same twoyear limit on their terms as members of the U. S. House of Representatives. Every time they meet they should have a fresh mandate from

It cannot be claimed that the necessity of campaigning every two years penalizes them the way it penalizes officials who must conduct state-wide campaigns. Their campaigning is give four-year terms to Ohio's administrative | rattles of civilization with the officials makes sense. A reform is overdue in that area.

A No vote on the proposal to do the same thing for representatives and senators in the General Assembly makes sense. No reform is due in that area.

Although the second proposal carries a rider setting up a schedule for apportioning the House and Senate at regular intervals - which Oho does need-that can be voted on some other time, on its own merits.

From now on it will be found that affiliation of most of the Republicans in the South with the Democratic party has been resumed in the hope of keeping the South on the conservative side.

It isn't generally realized perhaps what has been happening in the South since the Roosevelt and Truman administrations began agitating the civil rights issue. Thus, the Republican vote in the 11 states of the so-called Solid South went from 700,942 or about 18 per cent of the southern vote in 1932, to 3,955,254, or 46 per cent of the total, in 1952.

Where did this big Republican vote come from? In 1948, when the civil rights isue was hotly contested in the South, the Republicans polled 1,361,742 and the States' Rights party got 1,154,525. Combining these two, we get a total of 2,516,267. This was just slightly under the vote of 2,557,402 cast by the Democrats that same

THE STATISTICS of the voting in the South in the last few elections indicate what a return of the "independents" to the Democratic primaries can mean. Added strength for the conservative side will come from those Democrats who have voted regularly for their own party heretofore but who now have been stirred up by the seggregation decision.

Many foresee it as opening up the doors of intermarriage because state laws forbidding this might be held unconstitutional.

With the southern conservatives in possession of committee chairmanships in Congress and with the southern bloc committed against radical and socialistic legislation, the conservatives of the North will be told they may find that the Democratic party is better able in the long run to ward off a socialistic government than is the Republican party of socalled "liberals."

It's really the formula which by analogy President Eisenhower proclaimed in his Denver speech last Friday. He called for the tually all the States' Rights vote continuing support of the "indewent to the Republicans because pendents" who came from the they polled 3,955,254 and the Democratic party to vote for him

But everybody with a conscience begrudges an easy living from inflaming hates and prejudices. The currency of contempt for human rights is tained with the blood of its victims and corrodes everything it touches. It has corroded government in this republic time and time again. It has made a mockery of religious principles when practiced by people who profess to be Christians.

It has pushed America toward the brink of internecine bloodshed. It has played politics with human A Yes vote on the proposed amendment to misery and covered up the death cherful tinkle of cash registers ringing up profits from organized hatred.

that are of some importance: One is that we are hysterical about Communism. She could not understand our hysteria. She would ignore the evil and think only of the good, which is a noble proposition unless the evil is a cancer which cannot be dreamed away to a veil of ectoplasm. For the United States, Communism has produced a state of permanent war, requiring a war - time budget with all its attendant economic and social dislocations.

HE WAS THEN regarded by the conservative leaders of the Bar upstate as a most promising young lawyer. He was authentically headed for big things in practice and on the state bench. That judgment was borne out by his attractive demeanor and devotion to the best traditions of the Bar. In 1932, Gov. F. D. Roosevelt's

That debate achieved two decisive results: It started Wilkie on the road to the presidential nomination and obliterated Jackson as vote - seeking politician. DEAR IKE: You're using a spoon when a driver is needed. You're bunting when you should be swinging. You are not being dramatic, although you came up as a terrifically dramatic figure in one of the greatest dramas of history. It must be your advisers and I wish you would walk into a conference with those boys, demand a salute and keep 'em standing while you deliver this short and snappy speech: "What happens in this November elections is bigger than both of us. I'm taking over. From, here in you just do KP duty. It's later than we. think."

You make the mistake of believing that voters go for common sense, give deep thought to economy and like to stand on their own feet while reasoning things out. Man you're crary. This is an age in which voters are like movie, audiences . . . they are move only by showmanship, glamor and wallop. You have got to COME THROUGH IN COLOR if you want to win, (Robert Montgomery has been directing you but he casts you strictly for homespun stock company appeal. Brother, you need John Wayne, Marlon Brando, Burt Lancaster and Humphrey Bogart. You could even use Roy Rogers, Georgie Raft, Edward G. Robinson and Rocky Marciano.)

I realize there is no "ham" in you but you have got to acquire it. You have got to stomp onto the stage, chew up the scenery and lay 'em in the aisles.

I don't know whether you are holding your public or not. Only the coming election results. will show. But the fact remains that you are not using the hell-for-leather ethnique associated with you as a warrior. Win, lose or draw in the mid-term elections, the people would like to feel that you retained your rip-roaring channelcrossing, Hitler-smacking, liberty - rescuing for of the war days.

Your iron fist ain't showing. You ain't slugging it out. The people look to you for bugle calls and drums, not fireside chats, pleasant smiles and trout-fishing photographs. In the record book you are a two-fisted finish-fighter, a kayo specialist, not a diplomat or a standby for Robin's "The Thinker." They associate you with a flag, a war cry and a blitz, not with ghost writers, elocution teachers and miscellaneous kibitzers out to please everybody. Remember, Ike, you're selling service, not ice.

Warm it up, come out of the wings with gus. to and give us a show with a wallop. A sock hurts no program. (Also I think you golf with the wrong people. Golf with Marilyn Monroe and you're in. Those trout companions ain't too hot. Let's see you in a brook with Gina Lollobrigida and Tallulah Bankhead.)

Yours as ever

Elmer A builder in the FHA scandals charged off $87,000 divorce expenses to "construction costs." Maybe that's where the expression "split" level home comes from .. . How could an $87,000 divorce possibly be considered as a construction cost? Well, a fellow might be so upset by the marital unhappiness that he couldn't concertrate on making life tough for the govern-

Questions, Answers Q - What is the chief source of logwood used in dyeing? A - Most of the logwood used in the United States comes from Haiti. It is so called because it is shipped to market in logs weighing about 400 pounds.

Q - Is the sloth considered one of the slowest - moving animals? A - Yes, it moves about one third of a mile an hour, when it moves at all. However, it can move rapidly when in danger. |

Usually the person who has to watch his waistline has it right out there where he con.
